

GOD AND GLOBAL WARMING: SCIENTISTS' AND EVANGELICALS' COMMON VOICE

Thursday, February 12, 2009
5:00-6:15 PM
Harvard Divinity School

Sperry Room, Andover Hall
45 Francis Ave.
Cambridge, MA 02138

Refreshments and informal discussion in the Braun Room from 4:00-5:00PM

*For more information, please contact Meg Thomsen
margaret_thomsen@hms.harvard.edu
617-384-8533*

A public lecture sponsored by

CENTER for HEALTH and the GLOBAL ENVIRONMENT
HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

There are periods in history when humanity is at a crossroads, when the paths that are followed influence large numbers of people in fundamental ways for hundreds of years. We are in one of those periods right now, as the decisions we make over the next decade about the global environment will affect the health and lives of billions of people worldwide for countless generations. Join Dr. Eric Chivian and the Rev. Richard Cizik as they tell the story of their discovery that scientists and evangelical leaders shared a profound reverence for life on Earth and a deep sense of responsibility about working together to protect it.

Photograph for Time by Asia Kepka

Featuring:

Eric Chivian M.D.

Director, Center for Health and the Global Environment, Harvard Medical School

Rev. Richard Cizik D.Min, M.Div

Former Vice President for Governmental Affairs
National Association of Evangelicals

chge.med.harvard.edu